Red Bud Industries Receives Order for .500” (12.7 mm) Slitting Line from Alliance Steel Corporation

RED BUD, Illinois (June 25, 2019) – Red Bud Industries recently received an order for a Heavy Gage Slitting Line from Alliance Steel Corporation, a steel service center. The new line will be installed at Alliance Steel’s new facility in Gary, Indiana. The line will be capable of processing material up to .500” (12.7 mm) thick x 76” (1930 mm) wide, with a maximum coil weight of 90,000 lb (40,823 kg).

Alliance Steel’s new line will incorporate Red Bud Industries’ Precision Large Arbor Technology that is specifically designed for slitting heavy gage, high strength material. The system will also feature “hands free” push button strip threading from the Uncoiler to the Recoiler. This will allow the operator to thread the coil without ever coming in contact with the strip. Other features included are self-nesting tooling bars and state-of-the-art guarding.

The new line will consist of a Coil Stage & Load System, Dual Stub Uncoiler, Peeler Breaker, Entry Crop Shear, Three Packed Arbor Slitting Heads, Scrap Choppers, Tensioner System, Roller Leveler, Exit Crop Shear, Recoiler, Exit Coil Lift, and a Four Arm Powered Turnstile.
